Vinification Details:

Regional info:

In the Jaume family, they are vinegrowers since 1826 when Mathieu Jaume decided to grow vines in Chateauneuf du Pape. In 1979, Alain Jaume created his own winery, Domaine du Grand Veneur in Chateauneuf du Pape. In 2003, the "CLOS DE SIXTE" in Lirac was acquired, 10km away from Chateauneuf.

Producer Information:

Winemaker Sebastian Jaume and his brother Christophe, who looks after the sales and marketing side, are two of the slickest operators in the Rhone. Both excel at their particular vocations, and the result is an impressive portfolio that includes top Chateauneuf du Pape estate Domaine Grand Veneur, the beautiful Clos de Sixte vineyard in Lirac and a top quality negociant business, named after their father Alain. The wines are ripe, intense and full of spicy Rhone fruit. Robert Parker accurately summed them up in his book 'The World's Greatest Wine Estates' as being modern in style but 'never losing the soul and typicity of Provence. They are impeccably well-made, pure, and deeply colored.'
